this week we like ...

1 Candace Bushnell is back with more tales of the city, this time it's set among the various apartments at One Fifth Avenue, an iconic building that's home to a fascinating cast of characters. There's the Rices' in the ultra-luxe penthouse, discontented wife Mindy and author husband James in the old servant's quarters, actress Schiffer Diamond and wannabe celebrity Lola dreaming of moving up and plenty of others in between. Tension, drama, intrigue – it's all happening at One Fifth, (Little, Brown rrp $32.99).

2 Forget those scraps of paper, Mums Cards are a great idea for when you are at the playground, kindy or children's birthday parties. Choose a funky design or personalise with photos, listing vital info like contact details for mum, dad or carers, and birthday, allergy and doctor details on one durable, laminated business-card. Visit www.mumscard.com.au, delivery 7-10 days.

3 If you're sick of drying your clothes on airers in the lounge room or on the balcony, Brabantia have come up with a nifty solution for apartment dwellers without a clothesline. Their WallFix clothes dryer comes with wall bracket and easy step-by-step instructions. The 25m of line folds out with a single handed operation and folds away with a handy cover when not in use. Save on drying costs too – only $247 from Bunnings.

4 Now you can get your fix of all that is wrong with the advertising industry, and all that's right with it too. Series one of The Gruen Transfer, hosted by Will Andersen and backed by a panel of industry experts is now available on DVD, with all 10 episodes on one handy disc. But wait, there's more! A bonus disc features extended versions of the Road Safety and Bank segments, plus Gruen ads and Will riffs. Available from all good DVD retailers, Mary Who, or go to www.shop.abc.net.au

5 The reversible Bubba Mat is a vibrant and safe play area for tots, with an ABC-123 Hot Air Balloon or Yellow Bear pictures and words design on one side, and doubles as an adults exercise or yoga mat with a floorboard print on the reverse. Ideal for the home, waiting rooms, childcare centres or playgroups, the 1.9mx1.3m mat is 12mm thick and comes with a free gift, a 100cmx80cm messy mat – $179, from www.metromum.com.au

6 Are you clueless about eyeshadow? Go to www.elizabethardencolourstudio.com.au and click on the face that is most like your own colouring, then click on the new range of Elizabeth Arden Color Intrigue Eyeshadow Duos, which will show you how they look on the model, and avoid that drawer full of make-up "mistakes". The gorgeous limited edition mirrored compacts are inscribed with a quote, and are available in seven shade combinations, available at all good cosmetic counters. Rrp $45.
